MADISON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

FRIENDS OF THE OVERTURE CONCERT ORGAN

Friends of the Overture Concert Organ promote events featuring the instrument and serve as ambassadors for our growing program of outreach and education events.

Friends help to sustain the maintenance, tuning and concert production of the Overture Concert Organ. They also support lectures, organ demonstrations, master classes and other outreach events that increase awareness and appreciation of this great instrument both regionally and nationally.

Built in 2003 by the prestigious German firm Orgelbau Klais, the Overture Concert Organ contains 4,040 pipes—the largest being 32 feet tall and weighing 1,200 pounds and the smallest weighing mere ounces. Built in the romantic symphonic style, the instrument contains stops which create an entire spectrum of colors, making the vast organ repertoire playable in a most convincing manner.

Yes, I would like to “join the ranks” and become a FRIEND OF THE OVERTURE CONCERT ORGAN.
